'Billingshurst Today and Tomorrow'

Young people are the future of Billingshurst, and the theme is illustrated in our Plan by many of our young people.

We asked them to express the seven main Topics in their own way and to convey, in pictures, aspects of life in our village and its surrounding areas as they see them.

FURTHER INFORMATION

For details and copies of the Plan, please see Page 12.

Why is this Plan 'Community-led'?

Some great things have been achieved in Billingshurst. Again, it is up to us to ensure that this continues.

Our vision for Billingshurst is that of a thriving community with our residents, young and old, proud of our village and rightly celebrating our surroundings, our achievements and our future.

In the prevailing economic climate of less money and growing needs, we can still make amazing things happen. We can do it much more effectively together as a community than we can individually.

This Community-led Plan gives

Introducing Billingshurst's Community-led Plan 2015-2020

The changing world in which we live creates countless opportunities for all of us in and around Billingshurst. That is, of course, if we want them and if we seize them!

For this reason, we must all know what it is that we do want for our village, today and for the future. To do this, we must have a 'Vision' for Billingshurst, 'Objectives' to help us get there, and a clear 'Action Plan' setting out the tasks that must be undertaken.

That is exactly what this booklet is about.

Our Plan will be dynamic

This Plan addresses the next five or so years and responds directly to matters raised by the community through face-to-face research. It will be dynamic because we shall review it regularly as things change so that we do not find ourselves stuck in the present or, worse still, in the past. Helping us do that, the community has been, and will continue to be, involved in this process.

us strength locally because it truly represents residents' views. It gives us a real say more broadly with those who can influence our future within our District and County Councils, and other national bodies.

Of course, there are challenges ahead. This is because some may like things 'just as they are' while others want to see things 'move on'. And, particularly, the thorny issue of new housing and development must be addressed openly and frankly because the needs of our village and our families change, and we must anticipate that.

This Community-led Plan will ensure that we address the immediate issues and that we find ways to solve them, to seize opportunities that are here today, to manage and benefit from progress, and to achieve the best for the most.

Meanwhile, we must always pay close attention to those in our community who need individual support each and every day.

That is why...."Our Vision is that of a thriving community with residents, young and old, proud of and rightly celebrating our village and our surroundings, our achievements and our future."

We must continue to make that happen!

The Billingshurst Parish Council, the Billingshurst Community Partnership, the Billingshurst Chamber of Commerce, working with numerous other bodies, combined forces to do this.

That is why this is a 'Community-led' Plan.

The process started in late 2012 with surveys, face-to-face meetings and Community Mapping to discover and record exactly what the people of Billingshurst and its surrounding areas want, and don't want. Then, painstakingly, we reviewed and assembled every comment before condensing them into the seven Topics and the Action Plan that follows. All of the original material is available on request via the contacts on the back page.

The thorny issue of new housing and development must be addressed to meet our changing needs.

Taking the right road - together

As we roll out our Community-led Plan, we stand at a crossroads that is full of potential, unique to Billingshurst.

physically, we are at the intersection of the famous A272 and the Roman A29. We are on the main train line to London, we are near Gatwick, and we have the full range of schools from nursery to 'A' level - and an historic High Street. That's why people want to live here.

As a gathering of people, we are also at a crossroads in our development as a community, and this Community-led Plan will unlock an exciting future for us.

Our Plan is not a 'one day wonder'. It must certainly not gather dust on the shelf and what we have embarked upon must continue. That's why we must all keep asking questions, listening, thinking, planning, and delivering now and in the future.

We must take the right path to unlock the potential opportunities that are unique to Billingshurst

No one must be in the dark or in doubt

Open and proactive communication gives this Plan greater strength.

Facts and visible actions reduce hearsay, gossip and misperceptions. We will use every possible communication channel available to us so that everyone can be informed and be included, and 'feel' included. They will also know who to ask if in doubt.

Together, as a community, we can achieve what we set out to achieve - if we want to - and we can celebrate our village today and future generations can celebrate tomorrow.

Thank you for your support, and we ask you in the same breath to help work towards our success as a village and surrounding area in any and every way you can.

Communication with Residents and Public Engagement

Our Communication objective is to establish and maintain positive dialogue with all residents of Billingshurst and surrounding areas and those who can, may, or do have a direct influence on the Billingshurst community. Transparent and Available

It is essential that residents know about the existence of this plan, where and how to find it, and how to liaise with the Drafting Team and those carrying out the Topic Action Plan schedules.

Residents also need to know that every contribution made by every individual in the research and consultation period was recorded and considered. Our sources of information included BilliBiz-The Show, Billifest, Community Mapping (green/red dots selection process), Billingshurst Show, surveys, local organisations, clubs, schools, and postcards in the Parish Council newsletter. It was circulated in draft to the full memberships and constituents of the drafting organizations.

After the completion of the draft Plan, it was again presented to the public in the Billingshurst Show before publication and adoption.

All the original material is available by arrangement with the Parish Office, details of which are at the back of this document.

For copies of the plan, and for contact details, please see back page
